

FEATURED ARTIST

Alicia Saltina Marie Clark's work is full of patterns and colors, and uses charcoal and graphite for the individuals in her paintings. Each art piece has a contemporary feel, while the subject matter is about preserving her ancestor's history through art.

"It is an honor to recreate an art that has been lost and give it a new life," Clark said. While not every piece she creates is taken from the stories of her ancestors, she said every work of art she creates is a story.

Clark received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colorado and holds a Master of Education with Montessori Certification from Oklahoma City University.
